

“A customised letter of credit management service, from simply checking and suggesting amendments, right through to completing documents and arranging shipping”.

About us

We are a knowledge business. We are dedicated to improving business performance through networking, professional development, and from scouring the memberships of the three Chambers we serve to seek out examples of best practice. And we'll share our learning with you to benefit your business.

- Are your imports and exports trouble free and profitable?
- Are you optimising costs in areas of your systems and procedures?
- Are you maximising your profitability and return on your investment in international trade?

If you answered no to any of these questions contact one of our advisors on the number below.

Documentary credit management and checking services

A brand new service backed by Chambers of Commerce

Avoid expensive delays

Export success is achieved by mastering the international trade process, especially documentation. Using internationally agreed trade documents and training your staff to prepare them correctly will give you a competitive edge in overseas markets and improve the management of your credit and payment processes.

This new service is designed to provide immediate help for those businesses who do not have the available resource to commit to overseas trade or who can't wait for their business to develop the level of expertise required.

Letter of credit checking and preparation of all documents by experienced Chamber specialists

A service backed by years of experience designed to avoid common pitfalls:

- Does the type of credit give you the security of payment you want?
- Is it payable when you want it?
- Is it payable where you want it?
- Is the value of the credit correct?
- Are the terms of delivery the same as you quoted and do they match the price properly?
- Can you meet the expiry date and also present documents within the transport document time limit?
- Has the export or import licence been obtained with adequate validity?

Chamber specialists on hand

- Does the credit restrict the way in which documents are prepared?
- Can you provide the transport document called for?
- Can you supply all other documents in the way called for?

This new service leaves you free to get on with running your business while our specialists manage your documentary credits. Getting both the information flows and export administration process right the first time will bring the following benefits for your company:

- speedy delivery of goods
- quicker payment
- reduced costs
- satisfied customers

Roy Broadhead

Roy Broadhead has spent more than forty years as a shipping manager and independent in-house export specialist in the lighting, engineering and textile sectors. Roy says "many businesses are put off by letters of credit because they can be complex and demand a lot of time. By contracting the work out to the Chamber they know it's in expert hands and it leaves them free to get on with running their business."
