BUIDEX

DHAHRAN INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITIONS CENTER, DAMMAM, SAUDI ARABIA

MARCH 18-21, 2012

BUIDEX 2012 – the 14th Saudi International Building & Construction Exhibition

BUIDEX 2012 provides the ultimate platform for companies to showcase their products, services and expertise. Past editions have seen over 20,000 visitors benefiting from the knowledge and products provided by an extensive group of over 215 international exhibitors.

Join your industry colleagues for the key show that gathers the most influential decision makers, buyers and users under one roof, sharing the common aim to promote themselves, strengthen business relationships, and find new opportunities.

The Arab-British Chamber of Commerce is providing a unique opportunity to participate in the Official British Trade Delegation to Saudi Arabia. Participating companies will have the opportunity to network with potential customers and partners, acquire sales leads, gain an understanding of the marketplace and make industry contacts.

Saudi Arabia is considered to be the largest construction market in the Middle East and one of the fastest growing markets in the world. Driven by multibillion dollar spending, the Kingdom's rapid population expansion creates high expectations for quality and technically advanced houses, offices, hospitals, schools and universities, and it is this expectation that is driving the construction boom in Saudi Arabia.
